22ND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

A gift to others

Jesus loved banquets. We never hear that he refused the offer of a good meal. Once there, he would transform the table into a space for evangelizing repartee. In today's scene, we can imagine him wryly observing as people vied to position themselves for the best seat in the house. If he wasn't actually chuckling into his beard, his eyes were surely laughing as each guest preened in the attempt to appear more distinguished than the rest.

Aware of the learning capacity of his audience, Jesus first offered advice about how to avoid humiliation: 'Choose the lowliest place and nobody else can put you down.' He directed this pragmatic counsel to folks highly concerned about appearances — a few of them might have been astute enough to grasp his wisdom.

Pope Francis follows Jesus' lead in his letter, Fratelli Tutti. Critiquing entertainments like the dinner where the place of honour grabbed everyone's attention, Francis laments that we can feed ourselves 'on dreams of splendour and grandeur, and ended up consuming distraction, insularity and solitude' (Paragraph 33). He goes on to remind us that, 'Human beings are so made that they cannot live, develop and find fulfilment except "in the sincere gift of self to others"' (Paragraph 87). He wants us to constantly enlarge our table of encounter.

Following the advice Jesus and Francis offer would be an adventure — a step into the unknown. They are inviting us not just to eat and drink in the presence of others (pews apart), but enter into mutually nourishing and transforming interchange. As Francis says, 'Life, for all its confrontations, is the art of encounter. ... We, as a people, should be passionate about meeting others, seeking points of contact, building bridges, planning a project that includes everyone.' (Paragraphs 215-216). Francis says this can be our aspiration and style of life. Jesus calls it the resurrection of the righteous.

PARISH NEWS

St BERNADETTE OF LOURDES RELIC TOUR UK

The relics of St Bernadette (a section of bone from her thigh in newly built reliquary) for the very first time will journey on a pilgrimage to England, Scotland and Wales. Her relics will come to St John's Cathedral from Thursday 8 September, 9:30am, o/night to Friday 9 September, 10.00am.

This special once in a lifetime event will provide an opportunity for people of all ages and backgrounds to experience the charisms of Lourdes. Do come and make a personal pilgrimage to the French saint, to venerate and to pray for her intercession.

Special Evening Prayer of the Church and Torchlight Procession Thursday 8 September at 7.00pm.

(Please arrive at the Cathedral by 6.45pm) Why are relics important to Catholics? Relics are venerated to honour the holiness of God. The veneration of relics is rooted in the natural human instinct to treat anything connected with those we love, who have died, with care and reverence.

From earliest times the bodies of martyrs were held in special veneration. The relics of St Polycarp, for example, were described as being 'more valuable than precious stones and finer than refined gold.' In Rome, prayer services were held in the catacombs, and from the fourth century, the Eucharist was celebrated over the tombs of the martyrs. St Augustine explains this by highlighting that the bodies of saints and martyrs had enabled them to live as organs of the Holy Spirit. Relics help us to feel close to a holy person, making the communion of saints more real and fostering in us a desire for holiness.

Pope Benedict XVI said: 'By inviting us to venerate the mortal remains of the martyrs and saints, the Church does not forget that, in the end, these are indeed just human bones, but they are bones that belonged to individuals touched by the transcendent power of God. The relics of the saints are traces of that invisible but real presence which sheds light upon the shadows of the world and reveals the Kingdom of Heaven in our midst.'
