Renouncement

In today's Gospel Jesus says, 'If you want to be my disciples, you must hate your very own family.' According to scripture scholar David E Garland, the word 'hate' is better understood as 'indifference'. Hate, the inverse of love, is emotionally involved; contact or even the thought of someone we hate provokes strong feelings — we remain very much aware of and influenced by that person. Indifference is the emotional equivalent of a temperature of 68 degrees: neither hot nor cold. It does not keep our attention or solicit concern.

The second of Jesus' demands, 'renounce all your possessions,' can be understood as a reiteration of the first, simply sung in a different key. Poverty is a major theme in Luke, as it is in the writings of Pope Francis. Luke quotes Jesus as saying 'anyone who does not renounce all his possessions cannot be my disciple.'

In Evangelii Gadium, Francis explains that possessions have dangerous power to make our hearts 'complacent yet covetous.' He describes materialism as, 'the feverish pursuit of frivolous pleasures,' warning that it wields treacherous potential to blunt our consciences, leaving no room for God's love or voice.

It seems that what He really counselled was an indifference to blood ties such that one was not bound by them, nor by self-preservation nor by possessions. That means that, like the good Samaritan, the need that appears on our road must trump our other priorities. (If you want to calculate the cost of that, imagine how that Samaritan explained to his wife what had happened to the oil, the wine and the money he was supposed to bring home!)

We are not called to walk through Israel with Jesus. Few of us are called to forsake home and family completely. But today, everyone who wishes to be Jesus' disciples must carry the cross of wounded creation and renounce what harms her. This is not an option.

St BERNADETTE OF LOURDES RELIC TOUR UK

The relics of St Bernadette (a section of bone from her thigh in newly built reliquary) for the very first time will journey on a pilgrimage to England, Scotland and Wales. Her relics will come to St John's Cathedral from Thursday 8 September, 9:30am, o/night to Friday 9 September, 10.00am.

This special once in a lifetime event will provide an opportunity for people of all ages and backgrounds to experience the charisms of Lourdes. Do come and make a personal pilgrimage to the French saint, to venerate and to pray for her intercession.

Special Evening Prayer of the Church and Torchlight Procession Thursday 8 September at 7.00pm.

(Please arrive at the Cathedral by 6.45pm) Why are relics important to Catholics? Relics are venerated to honour the holiness of God. The veneration of relics is rooted in the natural human instinct to treat anything connected with those we love, who have died, with care and reverence.

From earliest times the bodies of martyrs were held in special veneration. The relics of St Polycarp, for example, were described as being 'more valuable than precious stones and finer than refined gold.' In Rome, prayer services were held in the catacombs, and from the fourth century, the Eucharist was celebrated over the tombs of the martyrs. St Augustine explains this by highlighting that the bodies of saints and martyrs had enabled them to live as organs of the Holy Spirit. Relics help us to feel close to a holy person, making the communion of saints more real and fostering in us a desire for holiness.

Pope Benedict XVI said: 'By inviting us to venerate the mortal remains of the martyrs and saints, the Church does not forget that, in the end, these are indeed just human bones, but they are bones that belonged to individuals touched by the transcendent power of God. The relics of the saints are traces of that invisible but real presence which sheds light upon the shadows of the world and reveals the Kingdom of Heaven in our midst.'

None of you can be my disciple unless he gives up all he owns

Great crowds accompanied Jesus on his way and he turned and spoke to them. 'If any man comes to me without hating his father, mother, wife, children, brothers, sisters, yes and his own life too, he cannot be my disciple. Anyone who does not carry his cross and come after me cannot be my disciple.'

'And indeed, which of you here, intending to build a tower, would not first sit down and work out the cost to see if he had enough to complete it? Otherwise, if he laid the foundation and then found himself unable to finish the work, the onlookers would all start making fun of him and saying, "Here is a man who started to build and was unable to finish."

Or again, what king marching to war against another king would not first sit down and consider whether with ten thousand men he could stand up to the other who advanced against him with twenty thousand? If not, then while the other king was still a long way off, he would send envoys to sue for peace. So in the same way, none of you can be my disciple unless he gives up all his possessions.'

BISHOP PHILIP'S 10TH ANNIVERSARY MASS We are looking at the possibility of hiring a coach to enable us to attend Bishop Philip Egan's special anniversary Mass at St John's Cathedral in Portsmouth. Please add your name to the sign-up sheet if you are interested. Further details to follow. POPE'S PRAYER INTENTION FOR SEPTEMBER 'Let us take advantage of their example and reflect on our lifestyle, especially during these moments of health, social and environmental crisis,' he said. We should take the opportunity to reflect on 'the way we eat, consume, travel, or the way we use water, energy, plastics, and many other material goods,' especially those which are harmful to the environment. more respectful of the environment.'
